चकोराणां चञ्चु-जडिमा आसीत् The beaks of the chakora birds get satiated अतिरसतया स्मितज्योत्स्नाजालं पिबतां by drinking (the nectar like) excessive sweetness स्मितज्योत्स्नाजालं of the smile on, तव वदनचन्द्रस्य Your moon-like face! अतः ते because of that, they आम्लरुचयः to taste something sour, भृशं पिबन्ति स्वच्छन्दं निशि निशि they drink freely every night, शीतांशो अमृतलहरी the waves of nectar from the Moon काञ्चिकधिया imagining them to be sour gruel!!

The beaks of the chakora birds get satiated by the excessive sweetness of the expanse of moon-shine, ie. The smile on Your moon-like face.
Hence, longing to taste something sour they drink freely every night, the waves of nectar from the Moon imagining them to be sour gruel!
